

WALL STREET NEWS

Traders Are Discouraged and Sell Freely, New York Central Alone Holding Up Well.

New York, Feb. 3.—Ligh Valley lost two points in today's market, and closed at the bottom price. This discouraged traders and they sold the entire lot freely. Although Reading was strong part of the session, and although New York Central held up well, the market as a whole was heavy. Closing figures were near the bottom in nearly all cases.

The bank statement showed an average gain of surplus reserve, but actual loss of surplus was recorded at the end of business on Friday night. This drain on the banks is due to the payment of dividends and interest for the first of the month.

Union Pacific, Steel, Southern Pacific, and Amalgamated Copper were fractionally lower, but with no apparent effort made to break their prices. A few specialties like Sears-Roebuck, advanced several points.

St. Paul made only a moderate response to the December traffic statement, in which a loss of $105,000 was shown. Gross earnings were up a gain of $124,000 in net. The Puget Sound division, on the other hand, showed a gain of $112,000 gross, but a net decrease of $12,000.

There was little in the day's news that could be used as a basis for any decided price movement, and during most of the session price fluctuations were narrow. Trading was entirely professional, and outside of the market leaders little was doing.
